DEGREES AND DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

GRADUATION UNDER A SPECIFIC BULLETIN

University policy allows a student seven years to graduate under the Bulletin in effect at the time of initial enrollment at Nicholls, even though the student has made a change in curriculum or has had a break in college attendance. Time limitations for graduate degrees appear in the section of the Bulletin devoted to GRADUATE STUDIES.

Within the seven year period, students may change to another Bulletin in the office of their departments. Students unable to complete a degree program within seven years after entering the university are expected to follow the Bulletin in effect during their eighth year of attendance (or the Bulletin in effect the year of graduation).

Students who are pursuing more than one degree simultaneously or who wish to earn an additional degree (see Second Undergraduate Degree) after completing the first may follow the same Bulletin if no more than seven years have elapsed and there has not been a break from the university of more than one semester.

CHANGE OF CURRICULUM

Change of curriculum becomes official on the date of submission to the Office of Records and Registration. Students should be advised by faculty in the newly chosen curriculum for the next semester. Records, however, will be formally transferred at the beginning of the following semester.

When programs must meet curricular requirements set by external agencies, such as accrediting associations, curricular changes may be made without prior notice, and students may be required to conform to such changes when they become effective.

The baccalaureate degree is awarded summa cum laude to any student whose official cumulative (external) grade-point average is at least 3.900; magna cum laude if the official cumulative (external) grade-point average is 3.700-3.899; and cum laude if the official cumulative (external) grade-point average is 3.500-3.699. To be eligible for degrees awarded with honors, candidates must have earned at Nicholls more than 50 percent of the total college credits applied to the degree.

Note: Effective summer 1997 the official cumulative grade point average for academic honors and class standing is calculated using all hours attempted and total quality points earned (external grade-point average).

Developmental courses which are taken during or after summer 1998 will not be included in the determination of GPA for honors.

Graduate students who earn an overall average of 4.000 on all courses pursued toward the degree awarded are recognized for this achievement during Commencement exercises.

Only students receiving a baccalaureate or a graduate degree are eligible to receive honors.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

General Education Requirements (GER)

In support of the university's mission to create a personalized, culturally rich, and dynamic learning environment, the General Education Program at Nicholls State University provides a common integrative learning experience for all undergraduates, regardless of their major or their program of study. This common core of study develops and fosters:

- foundational competencies in communication, critical thinking, computer and information literacy, and quantitative reasoning
- an understanding of the natural and social worlds in which we live
- an awareness of the importance of the past and a familiarity with the cultural movements that have shaped the present
- an informed appreciation for the artistic and philosophical expressions of the human community
- the exercise of moral reasoning, ethical choices, and social responsibility
- intellectual curiosity, independent and life-long learning
- knowledgeable and tolerant perspectives of intercultural and international issues and challenges

The general education core curriculum must be completed by each student working toward a baccalaureate degree at Nicholls.
