

Center News

As promised in last month's issue, the Center has created a membership drive for its many interested parties. People may choose from three kinds of memberships. Members will receive our newsletter and be invited to attend a minimum of two special presentations sponsored throughout the year by the Center. For your convenience, we have added the application as an attachment and you can also access an application through the following link <http://www.nicholls.edu/dyslexia/> .

Finding A Way

Ryan Lecompte, assistant program coordinator, will be giving informational talks that give insight into college life and how the Center can support students with learning disabilities. On March 6, Ryan will be at the Terrebonne Parish Main Branch Library and here at NSU on March 15. For more information, please call Ryan @ (985)449-7188.

Success Story

Samuel Clausen, a Center student, graduated in December 2004 with a degree in Culinary Arts. Samuel is currently the Head Chef at the Holiday Inn Select in Baton Rouge, LA. He stopped by the Center recently to let us know what he is doing. Keep up the good work, Samuel!

For Your Information

Northshore Families Helping Families, a disability information and referral support network, will sponsor inspirational speaker, Jonathan Mooney, at SLU University Center in Hammond, LA on March 10, 2006. Mooney will discuss his education and life experiences of growing up with dyslexia. For more information contact Pat Tannehill @800-383-8700 or 985-785-0511.
