

Memorandum of Understanding

*Nicholls State University and L.E. Fletcher Technical Community College
February 23, 2011*

This document serves as an articulation agreement between Nicholls State University and L.E. Fletcher Technical Community College to allow course transfer from Fletcher's Associate of Applied Sciences in Integrated Petroleum Technology into the B.S. Petroleum Services program, Department of Applied Sciences, at Nicholls State University.

After reviewing the syllabus, texts and meeting with the appropriate Fletcher instructional staff, the Applied Sciences faculty at Nicholls State University approves the following transfer credits and eligibility for credit exams for acceptance by Nicholls State University for the Bachelor of Science Degree in Petroleum Services:

1. The following Fletcher courses may be transferred and accepted for credit at Nicholls if the student passes the Fletcher course(s) with a C or better and enrolls at Nicholls.

Fletcher class	NSU class
ITPN 1050 - Petroleum Computational Methods	PSET 121 Petroleum Computational Methods
ITPN 1400 – Fluid Mechanics	PSET 131 – Reservoir Fluids

2. A credit exam may be taken by a Fletcher student for credit in the following Nicholls courses upon successful completion of the corresponding equivalent course at Fletcher with a grade of C or better. The student must be enrolled at Nicholls to be eligible to take the credit exam and receive credit. The exam will be administered by Nicholls Applied Sciences faculty and will consist of a comprehensive exam similar to that administered in the equivalent Nicholls courses. Upon completion of a pass grade of 70 or better on the exam, the credit for the Nicholls class will be entered into the Nicholls system as per instructions of the Nicholls Registrar.

Fletcher class	Nicholls class
ITPN 1600 – Oil and Gas Production I	PSET 231 - Gas Production
ITPN 1610 - Oil and Gas Production II	PSET 341 - Oil production
ITPN 2000 –Planning and Management	PSET 301 – Human Resources in the Petroleum Industry
ITPN 2200-Production Safety Systems	PSET 310 - Safety and Control Systems

Note: The student is not required to have completed a degree from Fletcher to be eligible for these transfers or credit exams.
