ST. MATTHEW’S EPISCOPAL CHURCH RECORDS
(1855-2015)
MS.00207
Location: EP
Addition Processed January 2015.

Bio/History Note
St. Matthew’s Episcopal Church was designed by architect, Henry Howard of New Orleans, and chartered in 1855 in Houma, La. with Rev. Moses E. Wilson elected as its first rector. The church building was constructed in 1858 on land donated by Robert R. Barrow and consecrated on the second of June. Between 1888 and 1890, the rectory was destroyed by fire and the church building was declared unsafe. The church was rebuilt in 1892 and renovated again after a hurricane caused extensive damage on 25 August 1926. The rectory was rebuilt in the early part of the twentieth century. The church was destroyed by fire on 11 November 2010.

St. Matthew’s Episcopal School dates back to 1947 when Mrs. Margaret Odom opened a Kindergarten. In 1970, a day school embracing Kindergarten through third grade was organized. Thereafter, an additional class was added annually until the seventh grade level was reached.

The church organized a children’s choir in 1975, which also traveled to various cities performing in other churches. In 1977, the choir was named winner of the New Orleans Junior Philharmonic auditions and recorded an album in 1979.

One of the books in this collection, De Bonnes Choses à Manger, was written by the St. Matthew’s Episcopal Ladies Guild in 1924. This cookbook has undergone several editions throughout the twentieth century. In addition to the cookbook, the Ladies Guild actively promotes various aspects of church life at St. Matthew’s.

Scope and Content
This collection covers thirty-two linear feet and spans 1855-2015 with the bulk of material covering 1920-2003. It consists of St. Matthew’s history, anniversaries, building renovations, canvassing campaigns, correspondence, diocesan policies and conventions, meeting minutes, school records, photographs, and church bulletins/programs. It also contains information on the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, and St. Matthew’s interaction with other Episcopal churches in the diocese.

Oversize materials are designated as “O/S” and located in special boxes and the Map Cabinet. Some books have been cataloged individually and located separately from the collection.
