

Nicholls State University

Master of Educational Leadership

Concentration in Educational Technology Leadership (36 hrs)

Beginning in the summer of 2010, Nicholls State University began to offer a Master's degree in Educational Leadership, with a concentration in Educational Technology. Upon completion, candidates will have state certification as an Educational Technology Facilitator, and in Educational Technology Leadership.

This concentration is a fully online program.

Course Requirements:

*The EDTL concentration is a Cohort based program. A new cohort begins each summer. If you wish to start in the fall or spring, however, you may, making the number of courses you take each semester smaller.

Education Courses:	Semester taken:
EDTL 501: Design and Development of Multimedia Instructional Units	Summer
EDFR 504: History and Philosophy of American Education	Summer
EDFR 501: Education Research	Summer
EDLE 508: Practices in School Leadership for School Improvement	Fall
EDCI 503: Seminar in K-12 Curriculum Studies	Fall
EDTL 503: Educational Telecommunications and Distance Learning	Spring
EDTL 505: Technology Leadership in Schools	Spring
EDTL 507: Technology Planning and Administration	Summer
EDTL 506: Professional Development of K-12 Technology Integration	Summer
EDTL 509: Educational Technology Research, Evaluation, and Assessment	Fall
EDTL 511 Advanced Telecommunications and Distance Learning	Fall
EDFR 596: Capstone	Fall

For More Information, contact Dr. Cynthia Beatty Vavasseur at Cynthia.vavasseur@nicholls.edu