In particular, she has experience teaching topics similar to what she is expected to teach in BIOL 114 and BIOL 115 at Nicholls, including (1) the hierarchical organization of interacting systems that provide specific functions within multicellular organisms, (2) evidence that feedback mechanisms maintain homeostasis in living organisms, (3) the role of the cell cycle and differentiation in producing and maintaining complex organisms, (4) how carbon, hydrogen and oxygen form sugar molecules and may combine with other elements to form amino acids and/or other large carbon-based molecules, (5) cellular respiration as a chemical process whereby the bonds of food molecules and oxygen molecules are broken and the bonds in new compounds are formed, resulting in a net transfer of energy, and (6) the role of DNA and chromosomes in coding the instructions for characteristic traits passed from parents to offspring. She has participated in the Biology Data Review team for the LA Department of Education in July 2018. BIOL114 and BIOL 115 are typically taken by first time freshmen and Lilah's experience with upper level high school biology students will benefit her students here at Nicholls. She has had high student ratings and her students perform well on exams. She has earned credit in 13 hours of graduate level courses related to Anatomy and Physiology and currently enrolled in 6 hours of graduate level coursework. She matches our program needs and has performed well.
